Player diversity in the Isuzu UTE A-League 2024-25 season

Isuzu UTE A-League 2024-25 season players were born in, raised in, or have played for at least 49 countries, based on squads as at the start of the season.

Aside from Australia and New Zealand, there are at least 99 squad players who were born or raised in, or who played for, 47 countries (see table). While around half (23) of these nations are European, countries from all other confederations are represented, including 8 African nations (Egypt, Guinea, Ivory Coast, Kenya, Sierra Leone, South Africa, Sudan and Zimbabwe) and 7 countries from throughout the Americas.

The table shows that, for example, there are currently seven players born in, raised in, or who have represented Brazil in an official international match, in senior or age-restricted games.

This listing includes many Australian and New Zealand residents born in these other countries, including several African-born players who have represented Australia and New Zealand in various age groups.

Additionally there are players with ancestry from several other countries through their parents and grandparents.

In the first 19 A-League Men seasons 2005-06 to 2023-24, players originally from, or who represented, 115 nations played in the league. This comprised players born in 95 different countries, players raised in 75 countries, and/or who played for 96 countries.

Aside from Australia and New Zealand:

WELLINGTON PHOENIX COACH

Giancarlo Italiano

Born 31 January 1983 in Sydney.

Initially moved from playing to coaching an amateur league team in Sydney.

Held junior coaching roles at several Sydney clubs before becoming head of football with NPL (state league-level) team Blacktown City in 2015, won NSW NPL Premiership and national NPL Finals title that year.

Appointed assistant with Sydney FC NPL and National Youth League teams in 2017, before being promoted to Sydney FC NPL head coach in 2018; coached alongside Graham Arnold, Steve Corica and Ufuk Talay.

Appointed to assistant roles at Wellington Phoenix in 2019, initially as an analyst. Moved on to permanent assistant coach for the 2020-21 season. Head coach for two games (two wins) in March 2022 with Talay absent sick.

Appointed head coach at Wellington Phoenix in May 2023 following Talay's departure; guided Wellington to second place on the 2023-24 ladder and a narrow loss (in extra time) in the semi final – the team's best-ever season.

AFC Champions League

The AFC Champions League Elite is Asia's premier club competition, pitting the top club sides from Asia's most competitive national competitions against one another for the honour of continental club Champions, and entry to the FIFA Club World Cup.

History

The first Asian Club Championship was played in 1967. For most of the next 25 years, Asian clubs competed against each other on a number of different fronts, namely the Asian Club Championship, Cup Winners' Cup and Super Cup. In 2002 the competitions were restructured, with the AFC Champions League established as the top tier competition. Another restructure in 2024 saw the creation of the top-tier AFC Champions League Elite, starting for the 2024-25 season.

AFC CHAMPIONS LEAGUE TWO (PREVIOUSLY AFC CUP)

The AFC Champions League Two is Asia's second-tier continental club competition, behind the AFC Champions League Elite.

History

The AFC Cup was the second-tier football tournament in Asia, launched in 2004 as a replacement for the Asian Cup Winners' Cup and the Asian Super Cup. Australian teams entered for the first time in 2023-24. With a restructure of AFC club competitions in 2024 the AFC Champions League Two was created as the new second-tier continental club tournament, starting in 2024-25.

The AFC considers the records and statistics from the AFC Cup transferred to the AFC Champions League Two.

Before 1977 the strongest football clubs in Australia competed in state-based leagues. There were only limited opportunities for the country's best clubs to play against each other.

In 1975, some of the country's leading clubs signed an undertaking to commence a national football league. In 1977, the National Soccer League (NSL) kicked off with 14 clubs in the league's inaugural season.

The first match of the new competition took place on 2 April 1977, when Canberra City hosted West Adelaide at Manuka Oval. John Kosmina scored the NSL's first goal as West Adelaide went on to win 3-1.

Between the first and second seasons, Melbourne-based Mooroolbark was replaced by Newcastle KB United. Over the following 35 years a wide range of options and considerations were taken to introduce and remove clubs to and from the national competition.

In 1980 the league first expanded, from 14 to 16 teams. Four years later the competition undertook its most radical transformation with a dual-conference system, based loosely on a northern and southern split of teams. In 1984 the league also implemented a finals system to determine the Champion team, after the first-past-the-post system had been used for the league's first seven seasons.

The national league reverted to a single-league set-up in 1987, and a one-off return to the Champion club being determined by the team that finished on top of the final ladder. In 1988, and in every season since then, the finals system has been the undisputed method of deciding the Champion team. The first-placed team on the final ladder is honoured with the title Premiers.

In five of the eight 'first-past-the post' seasons (1978, 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1987) a post-season play-off series took place. However as these matches were not played to determine the Champion team, the records for these matches are considered separate to the national league records.

At the end of the 1989 season the league reverted from a winter- to summer-based competition.

In April 2004 the NSL closed down, and in 2005-06 the first A-League season took place, with mostly new teams.

The history and records for the A-League Men since 2005 can be considered as its own competition. However, as the A-League Men continues the concept of the strongest men's teams in Australia and (since 1999) New Zealand playing in a league format, with finals, records for the combined NSL and A-League Men can be also considered in terms of a continuous Australian Men's National League since 1977.

The A-League Men 2024-25 season is therefore the 48th season of the Australian Men's National League.

Australian National Cup History

From 1962 to 1968, the leading state league teams played in Australia's first nation-wide knock-out cup – the Australia Cup.
From 1977 to 1996-97, in conjunction with each of the first 21 seasons of the National Soccer League (NSL), a national knock-out cup competition was played by national league clubs and, in some seasons, non-national league clubs – the NSL Cup.
From 2005 to 2008 a pre-season cup competition took place, consisting of national league clubs only – the Pre Season Cup.
Since 2014 a natonal knock-out cup has featured national league and member federation-based clubs – the Australia Cup.

From 1984 to 2004, and 2008-09 to 2019-20, there was a national youth league season coinciding with each senior national league season.

From 1984 to 2004 the national youth league consisted of a northern and southern division, with the winners meeting in a national grand final to determine the Champion team. From 2008-09 to 2014-15 there was a one-conference set-up, which reverted to two conferences in 2015. Grand finals also took place at the end of the 2008-09 and 2009-10 seasons, and from 2015-16 to 2019-20, to determine the Champion team.
